Hagerman Welcomes Delagrange, Minor and Baxter

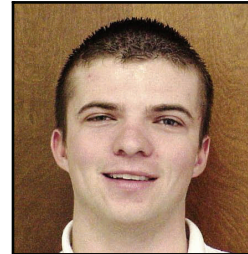

The Hagerman Group is pleased to announce three new additions to their construction team.

Greg Delagrange joined Hagerman in Indianapolis as a project engineer. A December 2006 graduate of Purdue University, Delagrange holds a bachelor's degree in building construction management.

Dustin Minor also joined Hagerman in Indianapolis as a project engineer. A 2003 graduate of Purdue University, he holds a bachelor's degree in building construction management and brings three years of commercial construction experience to the company.

Kyle Baxter joined Hagerman's Fort Wayne location as a field engineer. Baxter is a 2005 graduate of Ohio State University with a bachelor's degree in construction management and one year of construction experience. An army reservist, Baxter completed a tour of duty in Iraq in 2004.

Hagerman Construction Corp., GDH and Hagerman Inc. are part of The Hagerman Group, a general contractor and construction manager with locations in Indianapolis and Fort Wayne.
